New Decking Technology You Wont Find at HomeDepot

Brazilian Oak is all the rage. And people are just beginning to discover this amazing alternative to a pressure treated wood or composite decking.

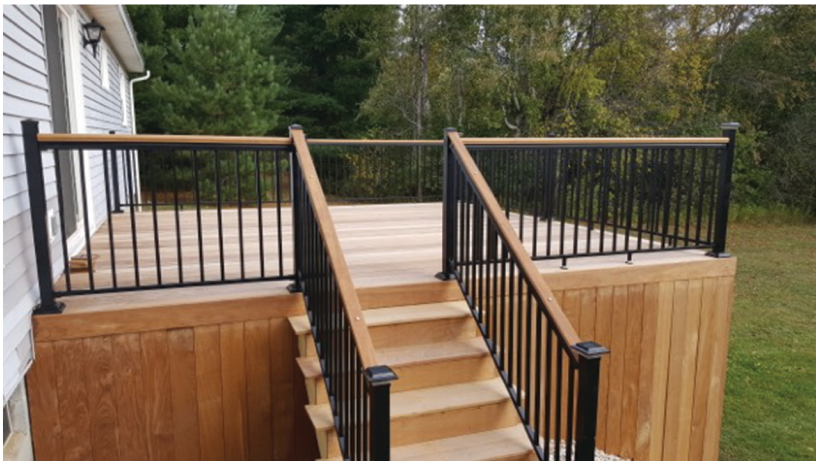

One of its main benefits of this South American hardwood is its 50-75 year life span. Almost impervious to the elements: Bugs don't bother with it, rot is non existent. Because it's 7 times harder than Bamboo!

Anyone "GREEN"? Brazilian Oak is a sustainable wood grown responsibly in South America and used to create some of the most amazing decks in the world.

You're probably thinking what about a Composite Deck? These are great! A maintenance free plastic alternative to wood. BUT with one major experiential flaw...

It's the feeling under your feet. When you walk on either type. Consciously you might not register it right away, however something inside of you will say, "This wood deck feels amazing!" Every time I walk on the plastic composite it's nice but it's plastic planking, it's a big "yawn" it's fake!

Are you ready to build a deck so incredible that you'll be tempted to eat, sleep and entertain on it all summer long?

Now is the time to get on my "Exclusive Brazilian" wood deck waiting list to enjoy your new deck in the summer of 2019.
